Event Details

Objectives of the workshop

- To create awareness on Intellectual Property Rights and Patents.
- To develop Academic and Industrial research perspective.
- To protect and explore IPRs.

The argument underlying public policy intervention to protect Intellectual Property Rights (IPRs) is that without such protection competitive market systems fail to provide private agents with sufficient incentives to undertake the costly and risky investments that generate the new ideas and technologies (knowledge) now widely recognized as the main source of sustained economic growth. This is because knowledge has "public good" attributes. Knowledge is typically non-excludable; in that it is not possible to prevent others from applying new knowledge even without the authorization of its creator. If a new technology is valuable, it is therefore likely to be copied or imitated, reducing the potential profits of the original inventor and potentially removing the incentive to engage in innovative activities.

Where "imitation" has lower costs than "innovation", imitators have the advantage over innovators unless the latter can restrict access to their innovation. This characteristic provides the argument for strong IPR protection. IPRs create ownership of intellectual property by giving innovators the legally enforceable power to prevent others from using an intellectual creation or to set the terms on which it can be used. For that IPR awareness is required which is significant for fruitful growth of the Intellectual property rights (IPRs). In view of above a one day awareness workshop on Intellectual Property Rights On Technology Transfer and open sciences: Challenges and Opportunities", has been conducted at Podar College on 16 Jan. 2020 by the Management department. There were 43 enthusiastic participants in the workshop on IPR. As resource person Dr Sunil Kadwasara Assistant Prof from Sekhawati college, Sikar who gave a very interesting interactive talk on Challenges and Opportunities.
